Shortage of Gold Bultion.

PHHADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 15,-The weighing of gold buillion at one of the reserve vaults of the mint, shows a shortage of $150,000 worth. The rault was scaled in 1887. The scale show the floor was not opened. If there has been an abstraction it must have been through a greach in the wall. The mint officials refuse to talk.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 18.—Inactivity and depression was marked in the dealing on the stock exchange today. The duliness was mainly ascribed to the absence from the market of the large operators, who seem to have adopted a policy of cautten, pending the conclusion of the silver discussion at Washington. The bears held the upper hand during the day, and the closing was at a decline of h to Ph in the general list.

SHORTAGE AT THE MINT. DOCTORS WHO DIFFER.

Against Dr. Richards.

A Mammoth Incorporation That Will do Inquest on the Body of Mrs. Poulson Exonerated Dr. Richards-Legal Action Threatened Against Dr. Dogge.

JERSERY CITY, Sept. 15.—The Sharon Estate company is the name of an organization which brethren in the medical profession for a will been breshess this month with a capital considerable time past. The cause of the trouble being that the Salt Lake medical society refused to grant the doctor a li cense to practice medicine on the ground it is said that he has been guilty of un-professional conduct. Some few weeks are Dr. Dogge commenced suit against the medical society to compel the society to issue the required license and the case is expected to comp up before Judge Zaue at this form of court.

Yesterday Dogge had a pass with Dr. Richards, who as one of the examiners for the board refused to grant Dogge the license.

for the board refused to grant Dogge the license.

The facts were that on May 21 last Drs. Richards and Wilcox operated on Mrs. Anna Poulson, a lady from Kamas, Summit county. The operation consisted in removing an ovarian tumor, and was performed in this city. The lady recovered and on the 28th of the same month returned to her home cured. Some time afterwards she again became ill, not with her former trouble but with dropsy, and was again brought to her former medical advisers in this city. The case proved very mulignant, and a few days ago her husband was informed that recovery was impossible.

Dr. Dogge was called in at this juncture, and gave it as his opinion that the woman could not recover, and at the same time stated that she had not been properly treated by Dr. Richards, and the latter alleged that Dogge accused him of being directly responsible for the death of the woman. Yesterday morning Mrs. Poulson died, and Dr. Dogge announced his intention of holding a post mortem examination. Dr. Richards also wanted a post mortem held, but did not propose that Dogge should conduct the examination all by himself. The intergot on his high horse and refused to even allow Dr. Richards to remain in the room.

Richards to remain in the room.

Richards to remain in the serious charges which had been made against him, was determined to have a full and thorough investigation in the light of day, and forbade Dogge to proceed until the coroner had been notified. Coroner Taylor ordered an examination, which was conducted by Drs. Plummer and Worthington, in the presence of about a dozen brouck, Stringham and Dogge. The latter protested against what he called this unwarrantable interference, but the coroner informed him the case was in his hands and he proposed to ascertain what there was in the charges which had been made.

The doctors making the examination found that the part which had been operated on was perfectly healed and unaffected, and that death resulted from consumption of the bowels superinduced by dropsical conditions.

The coroner following this announcement asked Dr. Dogge upon what he based his charges as to foul play and demanded if he was satisfied, and so the matter ended for the present.

Dr. Richards stated to a HERALD reporter last evening that he was considering the question of taking legal action against Dogge for defamation of character and that it was very likely he would decide to do so.

A GREAT LITERARY BARGAIN! Cooper's Famous Romances of the American Forest!

An Entirely New Edition of

By JAMES FENIMORE COOPER.

The first and greatest of American novelists was James Fenimore Cooper. "His popularity," says a writer in the Century Magazine. "was cosmopolitan. He was almost as widely read in France, in Germany, and in Italy as in Great Billiain and the United States. Only one American book has ever since attained the intermational success of these of Cooper's—Uncle Irom's Cabin," and only one American author, Poe, has since gained a mane at all commensurate with Cooper's abroad." The great author is dead, but his charming romances still live to delight new generations of radies. "The wind of the lakes and the parities has not loss its balsam and the sait of the sea keeps its savor," says for same writer above quoted. Reautiful indeed are Cooper's stories of the red gain and the informer, full of the dient, intensely interesting, abounding in adventure, yet pure, devating manly, and entirely devoid of all the objectionable features of the modern Indian story. No reading could be more wholesome for young or old than Cooper's Emous novels. An entirely new edition of the Leatherstocking tales in sust been published, in one large and handsome volume of over three lundred large quarto pages, containing all of these famous remances, complete, succhanged and unatortaged vize."

What the Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica is? It is the most complete and diversified

Library of Entertaining Literature

Ever issued from the press. Open its pages where you will, you will find something to attract and interest you.

If you are fond of history, it contains the finest collection of histories ta the world, embracing every nation of ancient and modern times, from heary Egypt, with its civilization running back for thousands upon thousands of years, to the latest born of the great family of nations. And they are not day as dust histories, either, giving nothing but dates and more descriptions of events; but genuine historical works, as interceting as Macaulay's History of England, and some of them from Lord Macaulay's pen. Or if you have a tiste for travels and descriptions of strange countries and their peoples, the AMERICANIZED ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA will lead you with the famous voyagers and explorers among the sunny islands of the Southern Seas, through the dreary wastes of Arctic ice, screen the pathless wilds of Africa, or among the quaint peoples of the East. It will tell you of the vanished civilization of Peru, of the growth or subsidence of faudalism in Europe, of the social and governmental polity of modern nations. And it, while you are reading, you come across some reference to a great man with whose deeds you are unfamiliar, the Americanized Encyclopedia Britannica contains a perfect library of biographical memoirs, to which you can turn with the certainty of finding just exactly what you want to know.

Are you interested in science? The Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica will tell you, in clear, understandable English, all about any science you may wish to study. Are you curious about mechanical inventions? The Encyclopsedia describes them all. Or perhaps you want information about some industry or mode of manufacturing? Again the Encyclopædia is ready to your hand; a moment's turning of its pages brings the proper heading to your eyes, and there before you lies a complete and exhaustive account of the entire subject. In short, whether you want amusement for an idle hour, solid instruction for more serious moments, or quick information about any matter as to which you are in doubt, the

IS THE YERY THING YOU NEED.

Why Americanized Encyclopedia Britannica? Because that is just exactly what it is—the Encyclopedia Britannica revised and amended for American use. You want your Encyclopædia to tell you about Grant and Sharman and Sheridan and Hancock and Cleveland and Harrison, don't you? Well, the Encyclopædia Britannics won't do it. But the Americanized edition will. The latest edition of the original Britannica was compiled fifteen years ago, and gives no biographies of persons who were living at that time. Maybe you don't know that? The Americanized edition contains hundreds of new biographies, specially written for its pages, and including every prominent man or woman in the world. You want fuller information about an American State than about an English county, don't you? You won't get it in the Encyclopedia Britannics, but you will in the Americanized Encyclopedia Britannica. Because the former work was compiled specially for the use of Englishmen, while the latter has been amended and revised especially for use in American homes. See?
